

Georgian online scientific magazines:

1. „Computer sciences and telecommunications”;
2. „Education sciences and psychology”;
3. „Physics“

„Computer sciences and telecommunications”;

Goal of online scientific magazine is to support science, timely publication and saving of new achievements, research materials and results, obtained by scientists and specialists. Magazine publishes materials, which cover new results of scientific research in the following theoretical and application fields:

- Mathematical Modeling, Computational Methods;
- Information Technology in Education;
- Information processing theory and methods;
- Data and Knowledge Base Management Systems;
- Transmit information to computer networks;
- Programming;
- Multimedia technologies;
- Information security and cryptography;
- Information technologies in technical and socio-economic systems;
- Management systems analysis and synthesis;
- Quantum Computers;
- Artificial intellect;
- Computer linguistics

The spectrum of authors includes many countries around the world. The percentage of foreign authors is 69%. Papers are accepted in Georgian, Russian or English languages. The reviewed materials are published in the original language. The journal is revised in VINITI, INON, TECHINFORMI

The journal is founded by the scientific-educational organization "Internet Academy" and owns "Copyright". Established in 2002. Magazine is provided patronage by:

Magazine founder Scientific-educational organization “Internet Academy” and it holds Copyright. Founded in 2002. Magazine is provided patronage by:

- Georgian Technical University;
- Andrew the First Called Georgian University of the Patriarchate of Georgia.

The editorial board of the magazine is tended to creation of a high scientific status and authoritative journal and is focused on the criteria required for academic journals with scientific traditions.

Chief editor of the magazine Hamlet Meladze (h_meladze@hotmail.com)

Responsible person Alexander Velijanashvili (academcad@gmail.com; journal@internet-academy.org.ge)

The members of the International Editorial Board are from Georgia, Germany, France, Spain, Hungary, and Turkey, from Ukraine, Armenia. (See listing: http://gesj.internet-academy.org.ge/en/editboard_ge.php?b_sec=comp)

Magazine is published 2-4 times a year.

Magazine web: - <http://gesj.internet-academy.org.ge/ge/comp/>

ISSN 1512-1232; Awarded in 2002

"Education Sciences and Psychology"

Goal of online scientific magazine is to support science, timely publication and saving of new achievements, research materials and results, obtained by scientists and specialists. Magazine publishes materials, which cover new results of scientific research in the following theoretical and application fields:

- High School Teaching;
- Organizing a high school study process;
- Information Technology in Education;
- Distance Education;
- Optimize teaching methods;
- Methodology of teaching quality assessment;

- Pedagogical Psychology;
- Information Technology in Psychology;
- Psychological aspects of informatics;
- Psychology of personality;

The spectrum of authors includes many countries around the world. The percentage of foreign authors is 69%. Papers are accepted in Georgian, Russian or English languages. The reviewed materials are published in the original language. The journal is revised in VINITI, INON, TECHINFORMI

The journal is founded by the scientific-educational organization "Internet Academy" and owns "Copyright". Established in 2002. Magazine is provided patronage by:

- Georgian Technical University;
- Andrew the First Called Georgian University of the Patriarchate of Georgia.

The editorial board of the magazine is tended to creation of a high scientific status and authoritative journal and is focused on the criteria required for academic journals with scientific traditions.

Chief editor of the magazine Nina Karbelashvili (ninacad@gmail.com)

Responsible person Alexander Velijanashvili (academcad@gmail.com; journal@internet-academy.org.ge)

The members of the International Editorial Board are from Georgia and abroad (See listing: http://gesj.internet-academy.org.ge/ge/editboard_ge.php?b_sec=edu) publication: 4 times a year.

Magazine web: - <http://gesj.internet-academy.org/ge/edu/>

ISSN 1512-1801; Awarded in 2002

“Physics”

- Goal of online scientific magazine is to support science, timely publication and saving of new achievements, research materials and results, obtained by scientists and specialists. Magazine publishes materials, which cover new results of scientific research in the following theoretical and application fields:

- General and applied physics;
- Theoretical and mathematical physics;
- subatomic physics, elemental particles and cosmology;
- Atomic and molecular physics;
- Condensed environment physics;
- Plasma physics and hydrodynamics;
- Astronomy and astrophysics;
- Geophysics and ecology;
- Biological and Medical Physics;
- experimental equipment and methods;
- solid body and semiconductor

Papers are accepted in Georgian, Russian or English languages. The reviewed materials are published in the original language. The journal is revised in VINITI, INON, TECHINFORMI

The journal is founded by the scientific-educational organization "Internet Academy" and owns "Copyright". Established in 2003. Magazine is provided patronage by:

- Georgian Technical University;
- Andrew the First Called Georgian University of the Patriarchate of Georgia.

The editorial board of the magazine is tended to creation of a high scientific status and authoritative journal and is focused on the criteria required for academic journals with scientific traditions.

Chief editor of the magazine is Anzor Khelashvili

Responsible person Malkhaz Gochitashvili (mgochitashvili@yahoo.com)

The members of the International Editorial Board are from Georgia and abroad (See listing: http://gesj.internet-academy.org.ge/ge/editboard_ge.php?b_sec=phys)

Published: 2 times a year

Magazine web - <http://gesj.internet-academy.org.ge/ge/edu/phys>

ISSN 1512-1461; awarded in 2003